OWOT redeployed

By LEMURIA
June 10, 2024

OWOT has received a fresh new update and some security fixes. One may recall that there was a bug that allowed one to send up to 512 messages per second in global chat; this has now been fixed.

This new deployment of the server is looking fresh. Another feature to arrive is the "Paste Preview"; with Ctrl+Shift+V you can hover over where you want to paste it before you click; to finalize things.

No visible performance improvements were felt when it came out; aside from a minor interruption to owot_ws_log (though you could argue Lemuria's SSD upgrade was a much longer source of downtime).

However in the backend, progress has been made and is still being made on refactoring the codebase; which should hopefully make maintainability a little easier. "Refactor HTTP API server into own class", says one of the commits as announced in the #changelog channel. Oh well.

WOTD REVIEW

boringletterwork's great variety of games

By LEMURIA
June 13, 2024

As part of a push to do more OWOT news, and less Kastner news, I've decided to review the WOTD as of writing on June 13, 2024, boringletterwork.

Or BLW for short. BLW takes you to a world with a vague website-lilnke look, offering a good variety of gamnles that you can play, all of which are web-based.

In page 4, we continue.

TextWall, a wall of text just like OWOT, has finally perished. By June 9 the site was completely inaccessible, putting an end to the month it spent in limbo as the center of the site was read-only.

While unverified, a message on tw.2s4.me written by someone says that trolls coming from Soyjak.party flocked Textwall, attacking the site and unleashing large amounts of braille pastes onto the poor server. Eventually, Duck just couldn't take it anymore and made spawn readonly.

June 9, 2024 was the end of OWON journalists did not witness the Soyjak.party attacks themselves and never caught a whiff of the braille spam, as they were busy scouring OWOT's canvas and Discord for something to fill up yet another page of next week's issue with precious content.

Toddlers are expected to migrate out of the preschool and begin scattering across the Internet as they attempt to find a new place to further feed their already-shortened attention spans.

There is hope that tw.2s4.me will keep them out, alongside FP action, but there are no guarantees.

June 9, 2024 was the end of an era. When OWOT's Wiki uses was and were, following long-lived and time-honored Wikipedia tradition of waiting for someone to die, and then changing EVERY single copula at breakneck speed, one knows that yes, it's true, TextWall has finally perished.

Whether Duck will make it rise again is unknown, but again tw.2s4.me exists so he may just not have a reason.

TextWall was the home of fictional googology and scapegoats that OWOT's community could use at their own pace to get things done, or just let off some steam whenever either Starianna or a bunch of image pasters strike again.

tw.2s4.me takes TextWall's place

By LEMURIA
June 10, 2024

Even though textwall.cc has perished, TextWall itself lives on somewhere else; and that is <tw.2s4.me>.

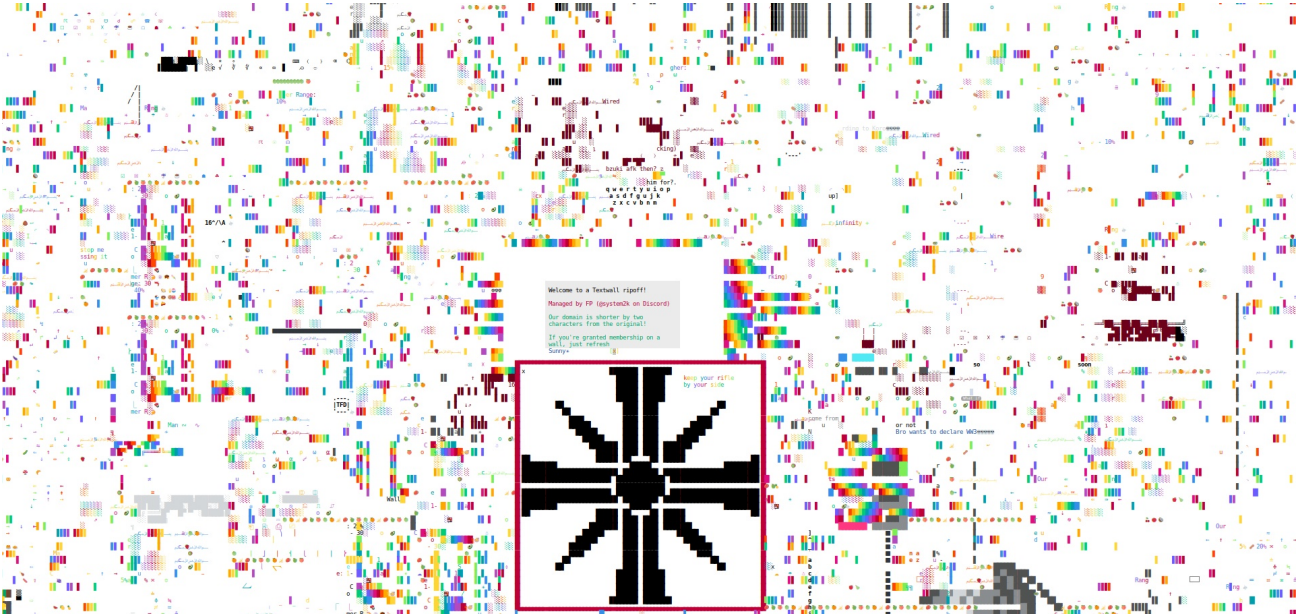

FP created the site as a place for TextWaller's to call their second home (or in this case, their new home), wanting to keep TextWaller's off OWOT and not wanting the cons that come with allowing a group of toddlers using Mommy's iPad to write random shit and spell things inkorektlei with absolute shit reading and writing comprehension.

The new textwall for now is littered with rainbow text (somehow, it's still Pride Month) and a massive Eden's Gate logo.

Keep your rifle by your side, they say. Some mention of bzuki is visible out on the canvas but it appears that when it's 12:00 UTC there's very little activity to take note of in the slightest.

Well, at least the toddlers aren't going to migrate to OWOT anytime soon when all we've gotta do is point them towards the refugee camp at "tw.2s4.me". Easy as pie.

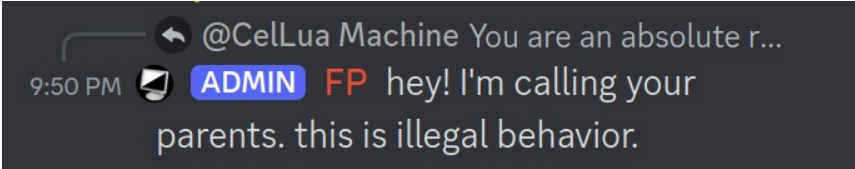

FP to call Marouane's parents

By LEMURIA
June 11, 2024

FP today made a call to Marouane's parents; making the threat in response to a statement where Marouane declared aka to be "an absolute retard", saying that "Pinwheel is just the name of the only 'Nickelodeon' show at the time".

"hey! I'm calling your parents. this is illegal behavior", FP said, though he didn't end up deleting Marouane's message.

Marouane has always been a controversial figure in OWOT, having received a 10-minute timeout last week for pinging Yagton. What's in store for Marouane now?

The message from FP did make it into the Weird FP Messages thread, which Lemuria did not realize even existed until a few days ago and was just freshly reminded of... well when he saw the message.

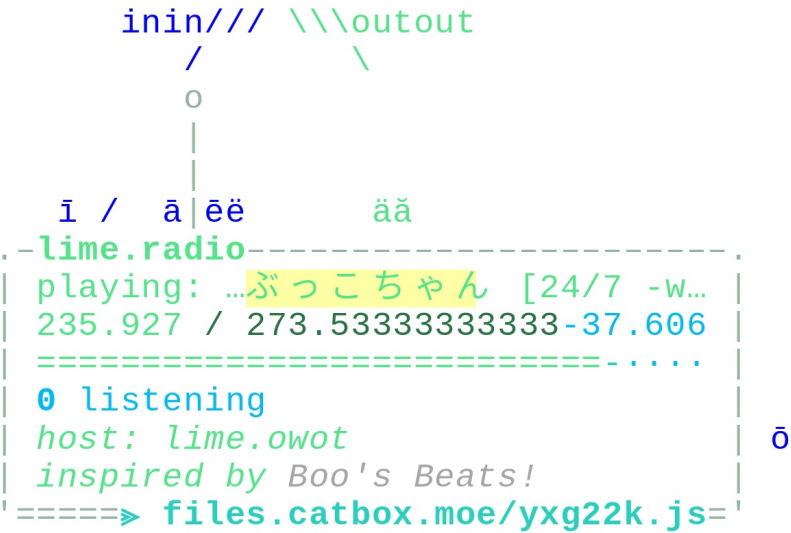

Lime's radio still functioning

By LEMURIA
June 10, 2024

Lime's radio is still alive and kicking. For some reason it appears to be playing some Japanese music, though at present it is broadcasting to the void with zero listeners.

Surely at other hours of the day people are actually listening, but because Lemuria's sleep schedule changed again, he has no fucking idea at all.

Keep on going, Lime.

Applepippin timed out for Ege jab

By LEMURIA
12 June 2024

As we approach the end of Yagton's first mod month, we end with a timeout on Applepippin (known as __ with six asterisks at the tiem). "when will ege shut the actual fuck up", said the first part of the message, the second part being something about suicide.

Of course, we won't reprint the second part to cover our ass should Yagton delete yet another of Lemuria's messages (GK flashbacks).

Yagton sent some information through channels Lemuria has access to that many others don't, with information about the events.

Of course, OWON will not release them, because Yagton put that information in a private channel for a reason, not in #general.

Ever since Yagton became a mod for OWOT, or well more accurately an admin, OWOT's server has experienced some fair improvements.

It seems to us here, and is obvious, that the people of OWOT's Discord server are happy to live under their new overlord, an American military contractor from Oklahoma.

Lime finishes ISR characters

By LEMURIA
June 12, 2024

Lime, one of OWOT's more younger members, has finished three "ISR" characters in Roblox. The exact nature of ISR is known, but the characters do look good.

Seen in the image below are Yale, Blur, and Pab. Yale has a yellow-black scarf (warning stripes, nice), while Blur is in Blue and Pab in pink.

The three characters stand against the sky on a baseplate, right next to each other.

Good work right there, Lime!

BP and CBAT embroiled in severe war of words

By LEMURIA
June 13, 2024

A new user has appeared out of nowhere on OWOT. And that user's name is CBAT. Unfortunately, they appear to be on the trolling side of things, spamming in chat.

"CBAT is a spammer who joined around 2024. He seems to have a dislike for Heccor, as they have feuded. As for the type of spam CBAT is known for, he posts child pornography spam as well as swastikas and spamming good things about himself.", says the OWOT Wiki.

We could not agree with this more. Lemuria published CBAT's chat logs to the #general chat in Discord for anyone curious.

Sifting through the data it reveals that CBAT spammed the symbol of a 1940s German political party in chat and the usual ragebait.

These days Lemuria is just jaded to what goes on, and could not care less. He, like many, has mastered the art of "don't feed the trolls". Well, don't feed the trolls what they want.

"Holy crap that's a lot", said Fernozzle in reply to the logs.

CBAT sends off minor Starianna vibes; their messages having been sent right in the middle or right before a Starianna spam attack. Not to mention, similarities between the two entities' messages.

However, there is no evidence yet that the two are related; and perhaps only FP can check, by corroborating IP addresses.

Here's hoping CBAT reforms sooner rather than later. And if he does refuse to change his ways, here's hoping that banhammer will go down. And go down real fast. So we can all get back to our usual activities and other shit.

Lemuria in hot water over Kastnerposting

By LEMURIA
June 10, 2024

Multiple members of the Discord server have began turning on Lemuria as Gallia Kastner continues to take over his brain; with no sign of the obsession going away anytime soon.

Andrei called on people to boycott the OWON thread; remarking that there were 18 members in the thread, he asked that people leave the thread as soon as Lemuria was "legitimately ousted".

In fact, with issue 00045, Andrei criticized us for choosing to have the front page be dominated by two articles about well... you already know her name and we won't say it again.

Yagton, usually chill towards Lemuria, even took the drastic step of deleting a photo of Kastner that Lemuria had posted; many people praising Yagton for this action.

In the days since then the Kastnerposting has stopped; Lemuria finally recognizing that yes, nobody gives a fuck about his "violin crush".

Starianna adopts new moniker of Eterhesia

By LEMURIA
June 12, 2024

owot_ws_log has picked up new Starianna activity; the name Eterhesia.

Yet another valuable name in the 9-letter namespace has fallen to the CP spammer who's wasted Canadian oxygen and Hetzner's servers, disk, and other resources with her BULLSHIT spam.

But there is still hope.. We can still reclaim the name.

Honestly how does one even coin the name Eterhesia? Quick, someone use it as their fantasy world name and reclaim it from Starianna before she uses it again!

Polonez ragequits again

By LEMURIA
June 12, 2024

It happened again. The first time that OWOT saw it happen was on March 17, 2023.

Polonez has once again decided to leave the Discord server and has been seen active in OWOT chat since.

"polonez has a history of leaving for ridiculous reasons", said Mr. 1052. One of Polonez's final acts before this month's server withdrawal though, was criticizing Lemuria's actions; especially the Kastnerposting of early June.

Hell, he even prepared a photo of Kastner with multiple clowns overlaid. But that's enough Kastner for one page now.

So far, it is unknown when Polonez is expected to return. Likely never, likely after the next OWON release.

EDITOR'S NOTE

I've heard all of you, and I know I've seriously fucked up this paper. When I wrote about Kastner and allowed her to dominate the front page in 00045, I put yet another nail in the coffin.

i'm just gonna say this newspaper fucking fell off already from the fact that these newspapers aren't related to god damn owot anymore like what the fuck you hav to randomly come up with gallia kastner bullshit every FUCKING time and the fact that polonez's page 2 edition with removed biased content had only 2 FUCKING articles or whatever you call it makes it worse i'm only gonna guess this because lemuria is rushing his content and just trying to bump up his "newspaper" every time a new issue is made and so of that until owon never improves i won't read any shit issues that aren't related to owot at all anyway this should be just called lemuria news or some bullshit because it is no longer owot-related completely and it's just more bullshit nobody wants

- Caioz

Well, I made a conscious effort to keep this issue as Kastner-free as possible and return to posting mostly relevant OWOT news. Enjoy!

Soyjak Party always causes problems... look at them spamming a link to their website and overwriting precious OWOT art. Would FP please revert this?

Soyjaks continue to wreak havoc

By LEMURIA
June 10, 2024

Soyjak.party continues to cause issues for the Internet's text websites. An anonymous user on Soyjak called for yet another raid on YWOT, posting screenshots of offensive content their fellow Soyjak comrades had previously left behind on YWOT.

Thankfully, OWOT has not yet seen the brunt of Soyjak-party's attacks.

Lemuria theorizes from some vague memories he has of other people's statements that the people of the site are well-aware of Starianna and would not want to help further the goals of a pedophile.

Well, Starianna has posted CP before. Most days it's text spam but on one occasion FP witnessed images being pasted.

Investigating these raids I found myself having to do a captcha just to enter the site. I quickly went to the raid subforum and looked for textwall and YWOT, to find nothing.

A search for OWOT yields nothing either, or maybe I'm just not able to access that; or perhaps the raiders actually come from somewhere else and are pretending to be from Soyjak-party for reasons unknown.

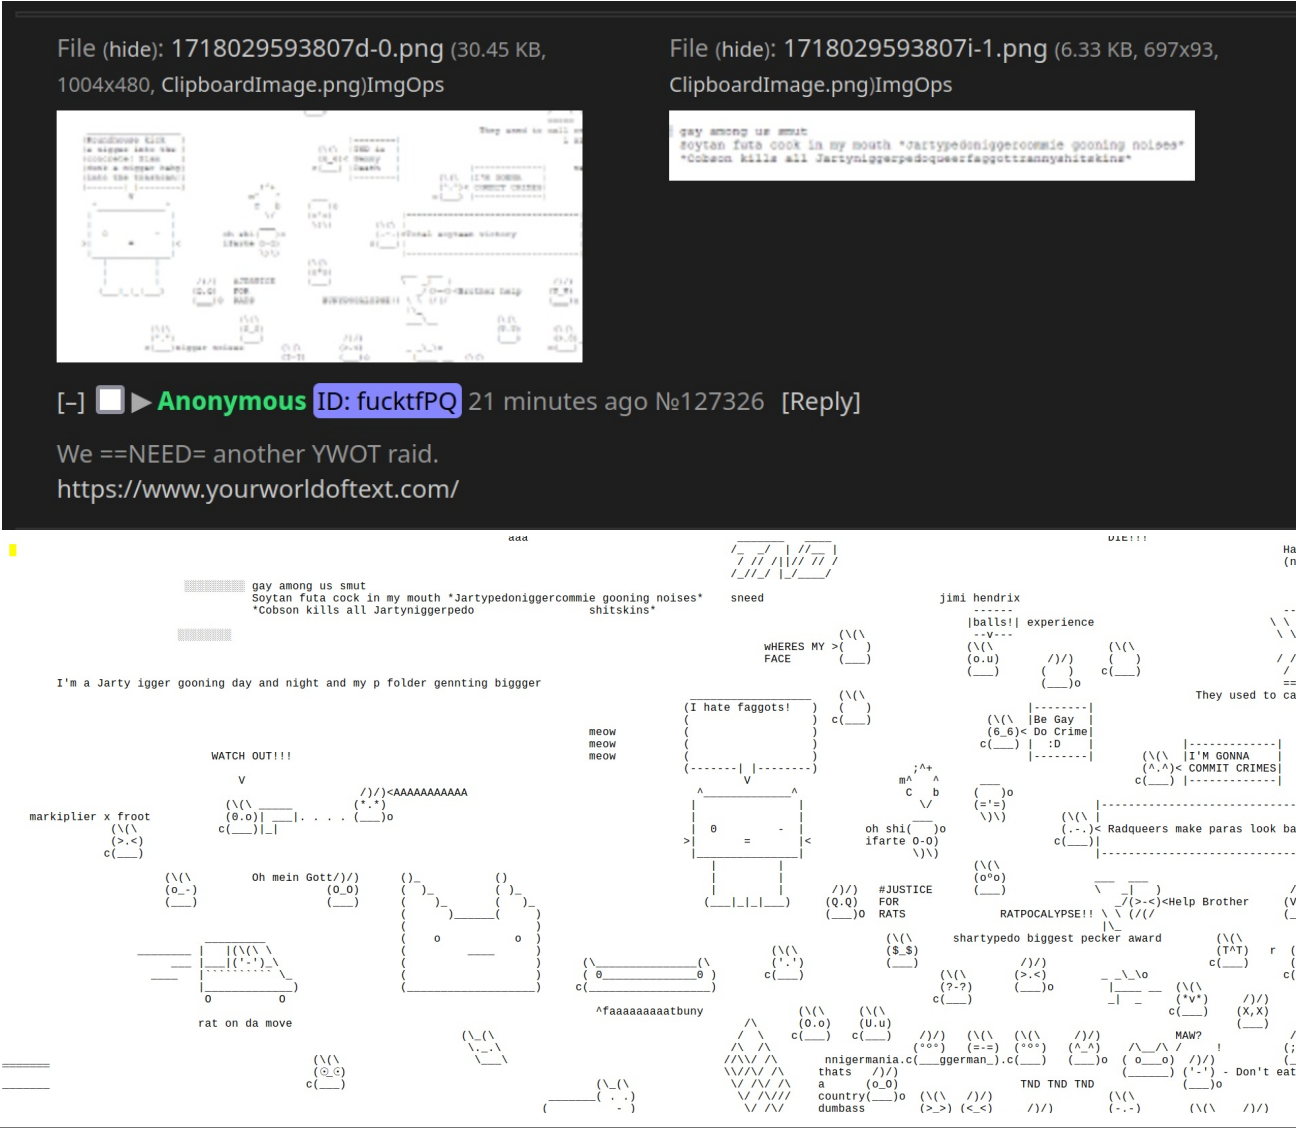

Lemuria decided to ask FP for information on Soyjak.party and he replied, saying that they were not really known for attacking things. Well, according to their definition of an attack. Of course, because it's in their name, they paste soyjaks everywhere they go.

"If they really wanted to attack the site, they would've been doing much worse and are capable of doing so", FP said.

They also paste the usual images of dead hanging transgender people. It'd be just a normal day if 50 of these photos were pasted for Soyjak members.

But for anyone else who isn't desensitized, it'd be the start of World War 3.

If you can't handle dead fish, you definitely can't handle those images. (You know who you are, Cooked Fish Group mod.)

WORKING GROUP TO REGULATE SHITPOSTS

By LEMURIA
15 June 2024

On 12 June 2024, Yagton established a working group to regulate shitposts.

Andrei called for unfunny shitposts to go to a new spam thread and "thats it", as Andrei would not waste his time scrolling through "500 mid ass shitposts".

There have been proposals for a fire and trash emoji reaction system to allow shitposts to be deleted according to the will of the people.

Not only that, there are calls to implement a slowmode just for images, enforced by bots.

FP said that he thought it could all be reduced to "don't spam in #trash".

However, it was pointed out that there is a reputation bias; Lemuria's Kastnerpost would be shot down by a hundred different SAM missiles.

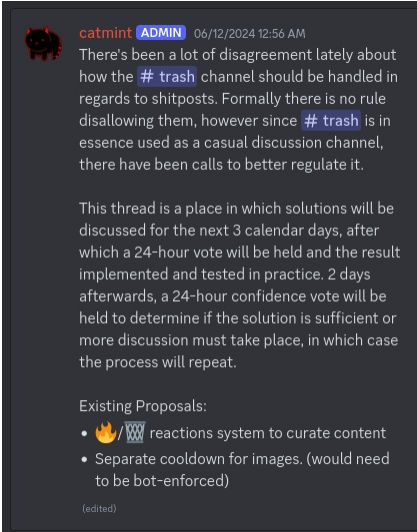

While on the other end, any unfunny posts that a higher-reputation member of the server would have the opportunity to carpet-bomb OWOT before one would think of attempting to shoot at it with a bow, continuing the metaphor.

There are also calls to rename #general to #owot and #misc to #general.

Yagton is expected to continually hold more polls as the OWOT community gathers to continue discussing the future of the Discord server.

Lemuria remains in favor of anything that will allow him to continue Kastnerposting and posting any interesting artists he finds in his recommended and which won't cause excessive disruption to the way things are.

He only became aware of the thread after 02:00 UTC, when it was time to release OWON, when Yagton posted a link to the thread and sent him there. He put in his vote, how democratic.

The Working Group will continue the tireless task of figuring out just what the hell needs to be done. Solutions will be discussed for three days before a 24-hour vote, and tested. 2 days after that, a confidence vote will be held to determine if the new rules are good.

If the vote is not sufficient, more discussion will go down; and we'll all keep debating the future of the Great Canvas.

ch size hits 1.4 million

By LEMURIA
June 10, 2024

Lemuria's OWOT chat logger, owot_ws_log, has reported over 1.4 million messages. 1,404,812 messages, it has reported; as Starianna continues her endless deluge of OWOT spam.

The bot was fairly quick in delivering database counts by virtue of running on an SSD.

Nora Gallia Elise Proctor: ch size
[*9749] lem:owot_ws_log: 1404821 messages (latency: db 312592ns, total 163ms)

Unfortunately for everyone, and for my opportunities to inflate OWON page counts, Grafana metrics are unavailable as Lemuria has not yet bothered with reinstalling it on his new Xubuntu 24.04 installation.

Bloctans releases OWOT but paid

By LEMURIA
June 15, 2024

Bloctans has released a script that disables everything on OWOT and detects when you put a key down, and tells you that action requires "a higher tier of OWOT".

"Our World of Money LLC", said Yagton in reply to the script, posted in the #scripting channel of the Discord server.

It is an interesting script though we're all collectively hoping that EA doesn't come in and swoop on forth and acquire OWOT to then proceed to turn everything into microtransactions to cause a "sense of pride and achievement" in all of us.

Hell, why am I even writing so much about this? Trying to fill in OWON because I'm one hour and 30 minutes late?

Well, Fuck YOU, EA! Leave our SITE the fuck alone.

/boringletterwork

There are multiple games to select from on a dark background, and you can scroll down for more.

Highlights include Sarah Caltrop's PLOP (at the bottom), DOOM (of course it just has to run on OWOT; as we all know porting DOOM is top-priority above everything else.)

Those two are at the bottom though. Meanwhile at the top there is EaglerCraft, a version of Minecraft that runs within the browser.

(Mojang, please leave us alone and don't copystrike us for that mention.)

At the top of the banner, you see the name CookieEater120. Not sure who that is.

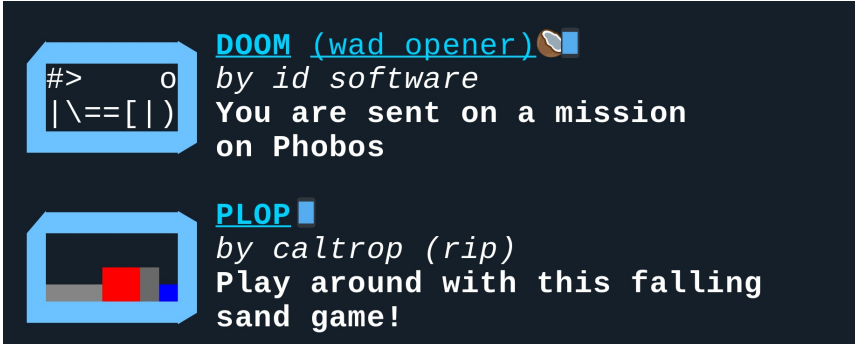

Yagton has a game of his here too, called M8Km billed as a client for m4k that "improves it with more features".

The world is overall great and worthy of WOTD.

However, there is a minor shortcoming; there is no way to open the game in a new tab that I know of. If you would tell me how, that would be great.

And of course, the top game is Our World of Text; the site we all know and love.

Is it actually a game in its own right? Nobody really knows. Anyways, 8/10.

/mr.saturn

Mr. Saturn is an interesting world but there's not much else aside from this. It will be a 6/10 from me, but at least it's not ProtectionsList-esque FG garbage.
